

Thank you Letter From Lori Jacobson – Cooking Classes

Hi Geraldine:

An enormous thanks to you for a truly splendid “worlds away from LA” escape last Saturday. The cooking class exceeded my expectations in terms of the stunningly beautiful Rancho Chiquita location, the mind-blowing views and the relaxed and informative pace and content in your cooking demonstration. I was especially appreciative of your casual “real world approach” to cooking – suggesting Costco or Trader Joe’s ingredients to incorporate into the fabulous recipes where possible (as we all know this is exactly how time demands dictate we approach cooking)! On a side note, because of my love of Mexican folk art and related arts, thanks for sharing a glimpse of your wonderful collections!

I’ll definitely be back with my husband in tow for another Rancho Chiquita retreat.

Best,

Lori Jacobson
